
5,097 traffic violations

A TOTAL of 5,097 traffic violations that saw people install curtains and tint windows in their vehicles have been registered from January until the end of last month.

The violators have been caught red-handed and several repeat offenders have been referred to the Public Prosecution, said General Directorate of Traffic deputy director general Colonel Mohammed Daraj yesterday.

“Such severe offences are intolerable and are being met with a tough response,” he said.
