

Community partnership in fight against crime and its effects on society

By: Dr Attif Al-Sharawi Ebrahim

Experiences around the world have shown that the philosophy of community partnership to fight crime and its effects on society imply that the responsibility of achieving security is a joint responsibility between all institutions, whether governmental, NGOs or those in the private sector.

Therefore to benefit from the concept of community partnership to keep society safe from crimes and negative trends, the contribution and participation of society institutes and members, irrespective of differences in their cultural or social values, is essential.

This is only an abstract. Please contact the Police Media Centre to obtain the full version of this study.